on the Share Ordinance was safely effected at the adjourned meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday, and it was a fair statement of the case from the bears' point of view. It might well, however, have been thought from the tenour of his remarks that. metead of a broker he was a leading operator on the stock market. Only once did he speak pronouncedly from the brokers' point of view, and this was when he admitted that " signing for the concerned " had done a great deal of harm, by encouraging speculation. "by people whose means and " positions were such as to make it undesir-"able for them to disclose their names." But Mr. GROTE, in his efforts to show that the bulls were quite as black as the bears, wandered away from the real point of the discussion, and only really got back to it when he came to the motion he proposed, which in itself was an admission that legislation is necessary to curtail the reckless speculation which has done so much to pauperise this unfortunate Colony. Mr. GEOTE would have the Ordinance amended to apply only to the shares of Banking institutions and to limit time bargains to a period of three months. Now, these two provisions, if they had been in force three years ago, would without doubt have had a very salutary influence in it is no still insteer to find the shleat Hongkong eta Shanghal.

opponent of the Share Ordinance now publicly acknowledging that some enact ment was necessary to keep the gambling mania in some degree of restraint. Mr. FRANCIS followed Mr. GROTE at a run, and lost his bearings altogether. After declaring that there is no more evidence now than there was a year ago that there was any necessity or cause for the Share Ordinance, he finished up a long and rather declamatory speech by seconding a motion which distinctly DINNEFORD'S FLUID MAGNESIA.

The best Remedy for Addity of the Stomach affirms the need for some restriction on speculation. At this point the Chairman very sensibly interposed with a reminder that the object of the meeting was to express an opinion on the working of the DINNEFORD'S FLUID MAGNESIA.

The speakers above mentioned, in their anxiety to use the tu quoque argument against Mr. BELILIOS, apparently lost sight of the fact that whatever they proved against the bulls would not exonerate the hears. The public at large care nothing whether the crisis was brought about by the action of the bulls or that of the bears. What they are concerned to know i that a series of disasters on a scale retefore unprecedented magnitude has be fallen the Colony, the outgrowth of a pro in shares which was fanned to white heat by the army of brokers which had been called into activity during its existence. If the hure Ordinance will impose impediments to a renewal of that desperate game, which the interests of the many are sacrificed to those of the few, then let it remain on the Statute Book. If it checks the operations of the bears it will equally restrain the efforts of the bulls to inflate stock. We neither want to see shares causelessly de-CATALOGUES: containing numbers and pressed nor unduly inflated. Let them stand on their own merits so that investors may feel assured, and know exactly what they are doing. There should, of course, be no interference with the law of supply and demand, but we full to see that the Ordinance in any way restricts legitimate business. Indeed, we have latterly had good proof that been large purchases by investors, and under the influence of this healthy demand the values of stocks have recovered to a consider able extent. Mr. Dr Boyrs informed the meeting that more applications from all parts of the East for shares in the Hong kong and Shanghai Bank had been mad during the past month than in an month in the course of the past twenty years. This is a sign of a recovery of confidence and we trust it will prove continuous. To ensure this it is desirable there should be a rest from disturbing influences during which the workers may amass savings, the timid investors regain courage, and the ball o hope be set rolling. We do not suppose there will be no speculation in the future. The Ordinauce will not prevent that. will be possible for the financier to still deal natural nourishment to the soil, and assists the largely in stocks and make much money thereby. There is nothing to prevent the issued to the pirates by the Chinese mandarins speculator buying for the rise and selling plants to attain to their full size, vigour, and when he sees his profit. That is not illegitimate business. It may not be beneficial for the community, but it is profitable to Leipzig, is to be relieved by Captain Horning, the expitalist, and cannot be regarded as objectionable. What we maintain is illegitimate business, the learned counsel's opinion not with standing, is the sale of shares by individuals who do not possess them, the Paweles, because the former was wanted to per- of last season's players who acquitted themselves purchase of stocks by others without the sonally report in Berlin on the civil war money to pay for them, and the sale shares on time under the cloak of anonymity by directors of banks or companies on information which should not be thus dis

Mr. CHANTEER INCHBALD, wh moved to ask the Government to refer the matter to the Chamber again at the end of six months, believes that by that time the present stringency will have passed away, and that a general all-round im provement will have set in financially. We sincerely trust this prevision may prove correct. But however that may be, and whatever may be the position of affairs in March, 1893, it is to be hoped that the Chamber will see no reason to recommend the abandonment of the checks which the Share Ordinance has imposed upon illegi-On the 5th September, at the Legation Chapel, Share Ordinance has imposed upon illegi-Peking, by the Rev. We want to see the market in a perfectly healthy and normal condition, and this can be secured apparently by the interposition of safeguards to prevent the pur chase and sale of non-existent shares for forward delivery. Happily for the community the Government is not likely to consent t any modification of the Ordinance without good reasons being advanced for such legislation, and with this comforting belief the

For some time past petty robberies of a very aunoying and inexplicable character have occurred in various parts of the residential quarters of two miles an hour and during this time she was the colony and have so far puzzled the police rolling heavily, the decks being continually full authorities to discover the culprits. Last night, of water. During one of the lurshes one of the bowever, a thief was caught in the act, under somewhat peculiar circumstances. About o'clock a man entered the open verandah window of No. 7, Belilios Terrace, calmly appropriated several articles of jawellery, and decamped. Fortunately a hue and cry was immediately raised and the thief was hotly pressed. Finding himself in unpleasantly close quarters he threw a box at the foremost of his pursuers, who, however did not notice the missile, thinking (as he stated afterwards at the Central Station) that it was a stone us The police woroduly informed of the loss and they ran their quarry to earth very speedily. A search being instituted on the road which the deligwest had followed resulted in nothing less The centre of the depression is towards the than the discovery of the missing property, consisting of a gold watch and chain, an Indian bingle, and a catsave broach. The Central Police station was thronged with an excited and interested crowd of Portuguese when the thief was brought to. Travelling, northwards from Hongkoug, by Amoy, Foochow, Ningpo. Shanghai to Chefoo we pass, speaking generally. from older to newer rocks. The granites of Hongkong with their associated bads of diorits and felspar perphyries are the oldest rocks of China, the backbone. geologically speaking, upon which has been laid down the nower bods which take the surface over by far the greater part of this wast empire. These rooks are again seen at Amov Foodbow, are hidden beneath newer volcanic rocks at Ningpo, where the beautiful mottled volcanio agglomorate violds the fine building stone which adds such beauty to the architec ture of Shanghai; then the land sinks down to the broad plain of the mighty Yangteze, to b succeeded by old orystalline rooks, probably of Laurentian age, which run all the way to Cheloo on the Gulf of Pechili, whose northern shores in Manchuria and Chihli are largely made up of beds belonging to the carboniferous system.

Travelling inland a similar series of rocks i found, the granites being overlaid by crystallian schiste and gueiss and quartzites, over which again he the earboniferous bads, with patches of colitie rock here and there, yielding as in Eastern Shattung beautiful fossil fisher. ands. Newest of all are the deposite of the Yangany stretch of alluvial matter derived from the

The granitic rocks rise in bold hills and moun tains, weathering into rounded masses, which oft-times become quite isolated, and stand like boulders upon the hillsides, or lie embedded in the well-known "decomposed gracite," giving rise mong the uninitiated to orude and oprious concotures as to their glacial or volcanic origin. Splendid examples of these aparious boulders are seen all about Hongkong, Kowloon; and Amoy where in the former localities they have been pointed out to me as proofs of glacial action submergence, or elevation, and at Amoy, where thay were described as volcanio bombs harled from dead craters now untraceable. As a matter of fact these "boulders" are simply barder masses of granite which have withstood the dissolving action of the elements; they tell from left to right, but in one specimen in about neither of frost-bound cousts, unr changes level, nor volcanio outbursts, but are stolld. witnesses of the silent forces of rain and river, of repicatiowers and burning suns and chilly nights In marked contrast to the swelling contours of the granite series, are the jagged and gnarled bills and mountains of the orystalline schist-

being tough enough for nother millstones they were plastic as dough. Very different again are the limestone hills of the carboniferous system with their gentle flexures, fretted into picturesque castellated ramparts, and running in long lines along the dip. Looking down from any of these heights i North or Mid China the eye wanders over was plains, reaching far beyond the horizon, strotch ing indeed beyond mysterious Thibet up to the bog-are quite pliable and clastic, and of a dark slepes of the Pamir, rising up through which isolated hills and ranges break the view like islands in the sea. Yangters, the great highway to central western Chius, source of fertile dolta-lands and a blessing everywhere; and the Yellow River, of lesser value for unvigation, with no fixed channel The CHAIRMAN said-Gentlemen, the report | for the last three hundred miles, the cause of devastating floods and called with cruel truth "China's Sorrow." Rising near to each other in Kolonor, the one going north the other south mards, those two rivers differ greatly both is their economic value and geological psculinrities The Yangtere, bearing in its waters the detritue of thousands of square miles of land. has formed huge delta deposits extrading hundreds of miles inland from its mouth, and filled up the shallow that sea spread over this now fertile region, in which isolated patches of highland stand—the former islands of the former coast. Vast quantities of mud are carried out to sea, where they sully the waters and give origin to the name Yellow Sea, which thus sea its peculiarity not to the Yellow River but to the "River of Golden Sands." In February I found the water perceptibly discoloured far south as lat. 27.38 dog, some 850 miles from the mouth of the river, and in March as far north as lat. 34 deg., making a distance the muddy waters extend to a distance of from 60 to 150 miles, being influenced by the currents. ocean water to the muddy Yangteze waters is quite sharp; and even the coming tide may be seen pushing back the dirty waters. All this tediment falls near the coast and forms sandbanks and shoals, and at no distant date the girdling Chusan Archipelago will be enclosed and stand as hills above a plain like the highlands in the Yangtese valley. Shanghei will then be a true inland town, even as already its name "facing the son" has lost its significance, Doubtless during the years from the 13th confury till about 1854, when the Yellow River Klangen, it contributed its quota to the ever. | gested that those who slaughter animals be regrowing banks, but the fact still remains that the Yellow Sea is born of the Yangtsse and not of the Yellow River. The sediment of the Yellow River differs from that of the Yanglaze in colour and in the size of its component parts. Whereas the suspended matter of the Yangtaze is a dull brown, almost impalpable material, remaining long in suspenalou and parried far out to sea and along 600 miles of coast; the corresponding matter of the Hwang Ho is of a raddy yellow tinge, and comparatively coarse. Yellow River water settles in a glass in five minutes. Yang tage water takes an in-bas also been issued. hour. In consequence of this difference in weigh of the particles the Yellow River sediment is reposited close to the month and does not anily of 715 pounds per square inch. the sea water beyond a mile or two from that point; and as some four hundred thousand tons the bar can scarcely be crossed in small boats. or that the French dredgers that were to cope with this vast deposit never got into river at all. Later intelligence has been received concerning the great fire in Chan Chuon on the 12th instant. The cause of the fire was due to the carelessness of the inmates of an opium shop when they were worshipping joss. The flames quickly spread, and there was not a single fire engine to stop their course except some small hand machines that pumped out water from biokats. The blaze lasted about seven hours, during which upwards of 200 dwellings were consumed Mr. Li Ke Chenk, the official in charge of the Wost Gate District, has lately issued an order notifying that two men named Lam U and Lam Yan have under talse pretences induced some of nis soldiers to go to Fatsban to arrest a robber and have stolen two uniforms and two revolvers from them. "91, Commercial Coad, Pockham, July 13. "D'ar Sir, -I am a poor hand, at expressing my feelings, but I should like to thank you. Your loz ngos have done wonders in relieving my terrible con h. Sine I had the operation of Trachentomy the same as the late temperar of Germany; and unlike him, thank God, I am sult alive) performed at St. Bar holomew's Hospital, no one cour possibly have but nothmen's mospital. No one that post by have hid a more violent cough; it was so had a times that it quite. The used me. The mucus, which was very copious and hard, his been aftered, and I have been able to get rid of it without difficulty.—I am, etc., yours truly, J. HILL." MEDICAL NOTE.

The above speaks for itself. From strict inquiry it appears that the benefit from using Kealing's Cough Lozonges is understated. The operation was a seconally severa one, and was performed by the specialist, Dr. H. T. Butlin, of St. Bartholomew's Hospital, since the operation the only means of re-lief is the use of these Lozenges. So successful are they that one affords i omediate benefit, although from the nature of the case the throat irritation is UNRIVALLED TESTIMONY.

Under d to Sept. 8th. 1801, Mr. All again writes : "Ish wid long since have been dond, but for your Losenges-they are worth their weight in gold. I will gladly see and ed sayone what a splendid cough remody they are." Kenting's Cough Lozenges, the harivalled remedy for COUGHS, G. RSENE'S, and THROAT TROU. BLES, are sold in Bottles by all Chemists.
